Baroness Furnivall.

London.—The Baroness Furnivall, the same house. The young peeress, barely 19, charmingly pretty, gay, and a great favorite, recently started a British career by suddenly disappearing from Lady Beaumont's country house in Yorkshire, leaving behind her the brief information that she had changed her mind as to her marriage with Edward, 9th Earl of Adderley, who was also a guest at the house, which had been in abeyance for 150 years.

ALLIANCE OF FRANCE, ENGLAND, BELGIUM AND ITALY PLANNED?

[By ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Dec. 12.—Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau resumed their conference on war problems this afternoon. The Curzon Kodet, secretary of state for foreign affairs; Sir Maurice Hankey, secretary of the war cabinet, and the French ambassador were present.

John W. Davis, the American ambassador, and the representatives of India and Japan joined in the conference later.

International finance was discussed. J. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, was called into the meeting after enacting the spending emergency.

Other foreign representatives were Vittorio Sella, the foreign minister, and the ambassador at London, the Marquis Imperiali; Louis Loucheur, the French minister of reconstruction; John G. Cleveneceneau, the French conference says:

The Lancashire Guardian says:

"The Clemenceau arrival in England and the departure of the American delegates from Paris were significant and not disconnected.

Premier Clemenceau doubtless comes to do what he can to fill the breach caused by the withdrawal of America.

As the prospect of support from America becomes less the need of support from this country grows, and may enter, not only the military and diplomatic spheres, but also those of finance and economics."

France Hopes for Alliance

Paris, Dec. 12.—Many French newspapers express the desire that the conference between Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau should end in an alliance, if not of an alliance at least of an entente or agreement equivalent to a real alliance among England, Italy, France and Belgium. The Eclair deems this alliance necessary to Belgium, France, and Italy and indispensable to England.

JAPAN WAGE EARNERS ATTACK CABINET

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 12.—A Chasapka and Ohio train, over armed and loaded, last night is minutes late, but John Cavin, engineer, apparently soothed the anger of railroad officials with a report that he stopped the train just outside of Frankfort, Ky., to save the life of a boy who had fallen in a mill pond. Cavin said the train was going slowly around a curve when "I saw boys apparently coming to the rescue of a boy in the mill pond."

"I stopped the train, cut the bell cord and hurried to the pond. The ice was too thin to bear me, so I had to rope to the boy, so I, though numb and struggling to keep on top of the water, passed it around his body and I dragged him out. I took him to the railroad station and by artificial respiration, resuscitated him."

Ohio Bill Provides City Purchase of Street Cars

[By ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Toledo, Ohio, Dec. 12.—A bill which would make it possible for municipalities to issue bonds for the purchase of street cars was presented today to the legislature of this district for its production into the state legislature next Monday.

The municipal ownership ordinance provides that if the city takes over the lines the rate of fare must be sufficient, not only to pay all operating expenses, but also the interest and principal on the bonded debt incurred to buy the property.

Fund Started to Keep Roads Open

IRISH FUND TO AID YOUNG MAN FIND RIGHT WIFE URGED

[By ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Dublin, Dec. 12.—Proposals that the Irish parliament set aside a sum equivalent to $1,500,000 as a state subsidy to enable young men to marry has been made public. The idea was suggested by Frank H. O'Donnell to the Irish women's franchise league.

He criticized what he called "barter marriages" in Ireland. He said he knew of girls of 19 years who were brought into the nearest town on Fair day and taken to a public house to meet men whom they had never seen before, but who were to be their husbands.

The girls, he declared, were bartered like cattle at the fair, while their fathers and friends were drinking.

COAL PRODUCTION SHOWS INCREASE; SOME MINERS REBEL

[By ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Dec. 12.—General increase in production of bituminous coal by all coal fields. In some sections, principally Illinois, however, some of the workers were in rebellion against terms of President Wilson's proposal, and in Montana, Washington, and Wyoming, some miners, and, in fact, all miners, there they declared a more thorough understanding of the plans. Other instances of deferred resumption of production were expected in the Pittsburgh district where union leaders continued officially to notify miners to return to work, and in West Virginia where new trouble was encountered because of the old question of the "check off" system.

In addition to permission to retail stores to operate nine hours Saturday no further immediate relaxation of the strike. Further relaxation order was in prospect today.

Except in the Pacific northwest, most of the country today was relieved of severe weather. Coupled with a coal shortage, almost unprecedented snows and low temperatures still caused difficulties in the delivery of train and wire service in Washington, Oregon, northern California, northern Idaho, and Montana.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE COMING

Another cold wave was reported forming in the northwest and moving eastward.

In the central competitive field an overwhelming sentiment in favor of a quick return to work was indicated in reports of union leaders and virtually all miners except in Illinois, were expected to be operated today at the latest by tomorrow.

In the southwest, Kansas was the only state where it seemed doubtful when operations would begin.

The Kansas situation depends upon the outcome of a conference today convened by the governor.

Mr. Moore said that with $1,000 he could at least make an attempt to open up main thoroughfares. He declared that with trucks, men and shovels, drifts could be moved and a passage made for trucks and other vehicles.

Each member of the county board has been asked to make known his desire in regard to holding a special meeting to provide funds with which to open up main thoroughfares. He said that with trucks, men and shovels, drifts could be moved and a passage made for trucks and other vehicles.

Mr. Moore can work with what was given him, he said.

Some members already have signed their approval of the plan.

PUBLIC FAVERS PLAIN

This step was taken by this paper after the sentiment of the miners to be kept open had been made to be emphatically in favor of keeping the roads wide open.

Answers to the Gaetz's questionnaire to its readers are arriving in every mail from the four corners of the county. The number in favor continued to go up.

Statements by the mills companies today were to the effect that the delays of the last few days continue.

Two trucks reached the city before noon today and the indications are that they would be as late as yesterday, while others will arrive about 2 o'clock.

The snow, which started this morning is making the roads of the country harder to traverse as the snow becomes more compact and difficult to buck.

OHIO MINERS DEFEND

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 12.—Several thousand miners, comprising six locals and representing, it was said, 60 percent of the miners in the Jefferson county coal fields, held meetings last night and voted to revolt against the orders of the miners' committee.

The miners' committee, it is said, that mistakes will be fewer and easily corrected when all governments are guided by well informed public opinion.

"Unrest is evident everywhere throughout the world. It is not of a disease but a symptom of disease. In our own country the disease lies principally outside the government. Those who think otherwise are mostly the newcomers and the men they have influenced.

The miners' committee will make mistakes, I am sure, but I do say that mistakes will be fewer and easily corrected when all governments are guided by well informed public opinion.

"The Clemenceau arrival in England and the departure of the American delegates from Paris were significant and not disconnected.

Premier Clemenceau doubtless comes to do what he can to fill the breach caused by the withdrawal of America.

As the prospect of support from America becomes less the need of support from this country grows,

EQUITY CONVENTION BREAKS UP IN UPROAR

[By ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

To get a first hand idea of the condition of the roads, a reporter went from Janesville to Brodhead last night in a roadster by way of Hanover and Orfordville. The trip proved to be that of a pioneer for the car was the first to make the round trip between these two towns since last Monday or even one year ago. It took eight hours and a half—4:15 p. m. to 12:30 a. m.—to make the 45-mile round trip.

Snow three feet to five feet deep in places where it had drifted and one to two feet in others had been encountered after the five-mile point was passed out of Janesville. Up to there the road had been dragged by the farmers and was in excellent shape, but when the Osgood farm was reached the drifted snow was deep, so deep that the roadster had to be taken off the road to get over it. While the car was in the snow the reporter got out and walked to the front of the car to express his sentiments on these questions at that time.

ACTION FAILS ON BILL TO USE U. S. ARMY IN MEXICO

[By ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Dec. 12.—The National Society of Equity convention broke up in an uproar and adjourned shortly before noon with charges and counter charges being bandied.

The riot was caused over a move by J. Weller Long, secretary of the National Society of Equity, and an anti-Titmuss motion to have an investigation made over the charges of corruption in the work of the convention which had been concluded Long ago.

Long stopped the train just outside of Oshkosh, Wis., to save the life of a boy who had fallen in a mill pond.

"I stopped the train, cut the bell cord and hurried to the pond. The ice was too thin to bear me, so I had to rope to the boy, so I, though numb and struggling to keep on top of the water, passed it around his body and I dragged him out. Mexico City, Dec. 12.—Following close upon a shortage of small change in the capital, counterfeiters turned out large quantities of spurious coins which were so cleverly made that they virtually defied detection. The secretary of the treasury issued a warning against them.

GOVERNMENT'S TERMS ARE DECLARED AS MERELY POSTPONEMENT.

UPHOLD GARFIELD

Officials Who Knew Little of Situation Interfered Is Statement.

[By ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Dec. 12.—While accepting the government's terms for the settlement of the bituminous coal strike, mine operators of the central Pennsylvania district declared in a statement today that "the settlement is no settlement at all."

Merchants are looking forward to one of the biggest business days of the year tomorrow. The heavy snows of the past week, combined with the shortened business hours, have resulted in a slackening of the activities.

"With mild weather and the temporary lifting of the old, Christmas-time, sales are expected to hit their full stride tomorrow.

Under terms of the fuel board's rule all restrictions on lighting of advertising signs and window display lights will be temporarily forgotten tomorrow, as well as the 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. oiling hours.

Business and railroad trade stores, dance halls, and all other amusement places may operate tomorrow in the same manner as though no restrictions had ever been placed upon them. The nine-hour schedule is effective on these places on Sunday.

Local railroad agents received orders from the coal board to let the chamber approved the movement.

ALBANY MAN CLAIMS
EVANSVILLE BRIDE

(By Special Correspondent) Evansville, Dec. 12.—The wedding of Miss Catharine Miller, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Miller, to Miss Poppy, of the town of Albany, took place at 10:30 this morning at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. A. W. Stevens, pastor of the Baptist church, read the wedding ceremony in the presence of about 20 relatives and friends.

The bride wore a blue silk dress and a corsage bouquet of American beauty roses. The bride was attended by Miss Mildred Yarwood. The groom was attended by Lawrence Lang.

A dinner was served after the marriage ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Poppy left on a moon train for a brief wedding trip, which they will be at home on the Snashol farm, one mile southwest of this city.

NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Dollar-Making
IdeasHOMEMADE CHRISTMAS
CANDIES.

(By Belle C. Harrington.)

Home made candy always sells readily at Christmas time, and the girl who plans carefully, securing her orders in advance, can make a little sum. There are a number of delicious kinds which can be made with little or no sugar, and that will be a big advantage, and year.

Maple Pralines.

Boil maple syrup until it makes a firm ball when dropped in cold water. Then add 1/2 cup of butter and then pour cool sir in a cupful of pecan or hickory nut meats. Grease the small round hollows in the bottoms of inverted teacups and fill with the candy mixture. Pack the lozenge-shaped goodies in neat boxes, with waxed paper between the layers.

Kisses.

2 cups granulated sugar

1 cup water

1/2 teaspoon vinegar.

Boil until it holds when poured on a saucer. Add 1/2 cup of cold water, then add 1/2 cup of butter and the song continued.

Boil until cool. Then beat whites of two eggs. A little shredded coconut or chopped almonds may be added, if desired. Beat 15 minutes, drop on buttered paper and brown one-half minute in a hot oven.

Butter Scotch

1 cup karo syrup

1 cup brown sugar

1 tablespoon butter

Boil until it makes a hard ball of wax when dropped in water. Pour over the buttered and thickly spread with nut meats. When cold, cut into squares and wrap in rolled paper.

Molasses Taffy

3 cups Orange molasses

1 cup granulated sugar

1/2 cup water

Boil until it makes firm wax in cold water. Set off from the stove, and stir about one teaspoonful at a time until cool. Then grease hands thoroughly, and pull until the taffy is a thin, pliable mass.

Three more students will speak Tuesday.

When the photographer calls you after you have subscribed for the pictures that he'd like to take your picture again some time in a party dress, of course your foolish fancy tells you that that means you're good looking, and you leave the studio well satisfied, promising the pictures won't hardly wait to get the proofs. And when you do, oh man, what a face, and you have to sit over again, and you think of some of the others in the class who are not as good looking as you are and you wonder.

High School Notes

Senior girls won the captainball championship last evening when they defeated the sophomores, winning the second game which the seniors won. Freshmen won one game.

After the game, stunts were put on by each team. The junior-senior team put on a mock wedding with Dorothy Stephenson as the bride. Margaret Bailey was the groom. The senior team put on a number of delicious kinds which can be made with little or no sugar, and that will be a big advantage, and year.

A dinner was served after the marriage ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Poppy left on a moon train for a brief wedding trip, which they will be at home on the Snashol farm, one mile southwest of this city.

ESKIMOS ARE OUT

Frank Sutherland's clan of Eskimos otherwise known as "outdoor sports" bucked snow drifts on a bobsled for two hours last night.

Saturday evening a box social was held at joint district No. 4, Lima and Marion, in the school taught by Miss Marie Cleckler. There were less than 20 boxes but one box sold for $5.75. The sale realized $45 for the school. A program was given by the children. The number which got the most applause was the stunt put on by the gold dust twins. Part of the proceeds will go to warm lunch equipment.

Prin. F. J. Lowth will give a lantern lecture at district No. 4, Marion, Tuesday evening. After the program a box social will be given.

A new clock, secondary dictionaries and memberships in the Junior Red Cross will be purchased from the proceeds of the box social which was given recently by the Hanover school, Marion, to the Near East Relief.

Miss Murphy today turned in $10.25 to the treasurer of the junior Red Cross which makes her school 100 percent. Sale of the boxes amounted to $27.35.

3 ARROWS AT CHICKEN?
NEVER! SAYS DR. ELMER

Philadelphia, Pa.—Quick to defend his title as the champion archer of the United States, Dr. Robert F. Elmer of Wayne scolded the shot more than one arrow at the fowl he was hunting when a Wayne justice of the peace fined him $10.00 for a Wayne justice of the peace.

Agents of the Women's Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals testified that Dr. Elmer shot three arrows before the fowl was hit, which was the property of George M. Aman, a neighbor. The agent also testified the fowl was not hit.

Dr. Elmer admitted shooting three arrows, but the first two shots, he said, were meant merely to wane the chicken. The unfortunate fowl, however, evidently mistook the doctor's consideration for evidence of lack of skill. His contempt for Dr. Elmer's marksmanship cost the bird its life.

Elmer's defense was that he simply missed the fowl, and that he did not intend to hit it.

Terrazzo Floor May be Laid in Police Station

Whether or not a terrazzo floor shall be laid in police headquarters and City Engineer's office in the basement of the city hall will be decided by the council at its meeting Monday night. It is understood that several of the councilmen favor the proposal believing the old wooden floors in these offices to be in such a shape as to require attention. It is argued that a permanent floor of the terrazzo type being laid in other parts of the basement would be a great saving to the city in the end.

DENVER JUDGE GIVES
ADDRESS ON BOYS

Manufacture of concrete blocks for use in construction of homes will be resumed next week by the Riverside Cement Block company for the first time in eight years. The plant at South Washington street, being operated in connection with the business of Hilt & Nielsen, will be ready for full operation within a week.

The plant will have a capacity of turning out from 300 to 500 blocks per day. Mr. Hilt said today, in connection with his announcement that he had ordered to build 50 concrete block houses in the southern part of the city in 1920.

The blocks will be manufactured two feet long and eight inches in height being made of any thickness desired. By utilizing the new methods of construction, two houses will be built allowing an air space of any width wanted. The two walls will be joined together at intervals of two feet with corrugated iron bars eliminating the old concrete bonds which have always proved an objection to cement block houses because of transmission of moisture.

The plant was closed down some eight years ago, Mr. Hilt said, because of the lack of a demand for blocks.

TWO MORE BANKS TO REWARD EMPLOYEES

Officials of the Bower City and the First National Banks announced this morning that the employes of each organization would be given an increase in compensation for the past year's work. The increase will be 10 per cent. of the employee's salary for the year 1919. The action of granting the compensation was reached at a meeting of the directors of each bank some time ago.

The increase was given to help offset the present high cost of necessities and to recognize the loyal efforts expressed by employees of the banks in caring for the increase in volume of business.

It was estimated that 30 employees of the three banks will be benefited by the action.

News Notes From Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

Dorothy Dalton who is being featured in "Aphrodite" the great spectacle which is having its first run in New York, has made quite an impression upon the critics, among them, however, who say that Miss Dalton, after several seasons in stock and vaudeville, have acclaimed her as a new recruit for the footlights and promise that a future is to store for her should she decide to go on the legitimate stage. Miss Dalton's present engagement on the speaking stage may not last long, however, for Mayor Hylan has ordered the New York license department to investigate the show. The mayor's letter said in part:

"Press accounts today condemn as indecent the production 'Aphrodite.' Consequently, I believe that an immediate inquiry should be made into the character of this performance, and if it is found to be offensive to the public taste, some way should be found to suppress it. Immoral plays must not be flaunted in the face of the New York public."

There is always ample support for good, wholesome productions

here, but I am absolutely certain that the people of this city will not tolerate anything that borders on immorality."

It seems that Dorothy always picks the naughty plays. We remember one picture that even the rather lenient (as compared with other Ohio censors) would not permit.

Miss Dalton, although she achieved her fame on the screen, is by no means new on the boards for she was on the stage before entering the silent drama. Her present part in "Aphrodite" suits her perfectly.

Indeed, the producer was making up the production hunting for the right type when he found

Miss Dalton for the part. Miss Dalton is a Thomas H. Ince star and one of her first and perhaps one of her best pictures. "The Flame of the Yukon" was done under the "Third" banner.

Soon Dorothy will join the rest of

those industrious actors who are acting under the "Cooper-Hewitt" by day and behind the footlights at night. She will, no doubt, work shortly on her next picture, which bears the title "White Ashes."

Luther Reed is the author of the story and he is preparing the scenario from his own story.

The accompanying photograph was taken just before the opening of "Aphrodite."

BUSTER KEATON, TOO

Stardom appears to be assailing all of the comedians these days in manner not to be denied. First it was Eddie Keaton who left his uncle,

Artie Arbuckle, to blossom forth in his own right. Now, it appears, that Buster Keaton is going to follow suit. Keaton, long a mainstay of the Arbuckle camp, succeeded St.

John on his departure.

Soon Dorothy will join the rest of

those industrious actors who are acting under the "Cooper-Hewitt" by

MAC DOWELL CLUB

HOLES FIRST MEETING

The first meeting of the MacDowell club for the season was held

Thursday at the home of Miss Carle,

605 St. Lawrence avenue. A buffet luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, after which a business meeting was held and plans made for the year.

At 6 o'clock the meeting was open to all members of the Apollo club.

Many took advantage of the opportunity to hear Mrs. J. Herbert

Stapleton, Milwaukee, president of the Federation of Music clubs of Wisconsin. Mrs. Stapleton is a charming woman and a convincing speaker. She gave an interesting account of the biannual meeting held at Peterboro, N. H., last summer.

She asked for a broadening out of the activities of all clubs into community and social lines, rather remedy for many ills of the present day, free music, not limiting the hearing of it to the confines of the music club.

Mrs. Robert Dailey, Beloit, sang a group of songs. She was accompanied by Mrs. William Sherman. The next meeting of the club will be held in January. Announcement of the date will be made later.

WOMAN ACTS AS ADVANCE AGENT

Something new under the sun a late advance agent came into the Gazette office this morning, bright and early and announced she was chief news purveyor for "Bringing Up Father in Society" which Mr. Gurrill is sending to Myers next week.

Monday, Dec. 17, will be the day for the opening of the play.

This is an innovation for as far back as we can remember. Elinor

M. Hughes is the first woman to come here in advance of a show.

This company comes here direct from Chicago where it is playing this week at the Imperial Theatre. Plays

Jamestown, Monday and Tuesday;

Madison Wednesday and Thursday;

Racine, Friday and Saturday, and back into Chicago for 3 more weeks and Miss Hughes states this is Mr.

Hill's very best musical show from Geo. McMurtry's famous cartoon now running in this paper.

Ashland to Prevent Coal Being Shipped Out of City

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ashland, Dec. 12.—The city council of Ashland adopted a resolution empowering the city authorities to prevent coal being shipped out of Ashland in sufficient quantities to cause a coal shortage here. The coal receipts at this port this season were 25 percent short, and the demands have been extraordinary, owing to the unprecedented cold weather for November. The coal shortage adds to the demands from other places. Coal shipments by rail have been heavy from the Ashland coal docks, and the city authorities intend to protect Ashland consumers.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of fourteen and have a sister seven years older. Everywhere she goes my aunt makes me go with her even when she goes to see her girl friends, for fear she will speak to boy.

I don't like to do this for I think she is old enough to take care of herself. Please advise.

Your aunt is certainly putting you in a difficult position. You might tell your sister how you feel about going and say she can trust you to be her friend and not a tale-bearer. It seems to me that your aunt is running the risk of losing you as your sister's long enemies. You might refuse to go along and take your punishment. Your aunt will make your sister less instead of more trustworthy by this treatment.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: For the last six months I have been keeping company with a young lady, going out with her two times a week. Do you think it would be proper to give her a Christmas gift?

Would it be proper if I had my mother invite her to dinner some night?

Yes, it would be all right to give her a Christmas present. If you want to be strictly proper, send her candy and flowers.

It would be all right for your mother to invite her to dinner.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going to a dance if you would know particular interest in the one girl you care for most. Invite her to your home for Sunday tea at any other time you would care to have her and ask her to go to the picture show with you. If you are together a few times a close relationship will develop with you. Be careful not to give the impression that you are running after her.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: When a husband and wife are separated for some time and the husband attends public dances frequently in the general surroundings, do you think it is proper for the wife to attend public dances too?

I should judge from the way you have worded your question that the separation is a business matter and not personal. If so, it is in this case better for the wife, nor the husband, should attend public dances.

THE SNEAKING WAYS OF C. V. D.

Cardiovascular disease—called C. V. D. for short—is that increasingly common disease which expresses itself in arteriosclerosis of the arteries (arteriosclerosis), slow heart muscle failure (myocarditis or myocardial degeneration), chronic Bright's disease (nephritis) and apoplexy (cerebral hemorrhage, stroke of paralysis).

"Sneaking 'disease'" is practically never a sudden event; the victim has many a warning signal for months or years before he becomes incapacitated, although the signals are rarely heeded, if he needed too much medical advice by the way. Many a business or professional gentleman with undiagnosed heart muscle degeneration is taking a "tonic for the nervous system" highly extolled by some health-ignorant highbrow.

Neither is apoplexy a stroke out of a clear sky. No one suffers this ill fortune until the arteries, which become as unobtrusively as baldness or wrinkled skin.

Between normality and C. V. D. there is no sharp line of demarcation. There is a wide zone of slight impairment of health, which is very difficult for a skilled physician with every instrument of precision and every modern laboratory aid to arrive at a diagnosis of Bright's disease, heart muscle degeneration, or other expression of the disease. And, for this wide zone, it is most thankful, for within the zone there is still a fair chance to turn back to normality, to recover health, as Horace Fletcher did and as many others have done. Of course it is necessary first to find out where we are at, and the way to do that is by consulting annually a competent physical man.

One great obstacle which must be overcome before any real progress can be made in controlling the constantly increasing prevalence of C. V. D. and, indeed, the single, ageless, pernicious, is the popular notion that it is "functional" trouble. It is not serious as an "organic" disease is. This is equivocal. Disease is disturbance of function. Of course all disease is "organic." Symptoms are the expression of disease. The time to look for organic disease is when the symptoms are still minor symptoms, before the organic change has become irremediable.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

When Tuberculosis Is Acquired. It is true that an adult rarely contracts tuberculosis, but it can be said that the infection is almost always acquired in childhood or in infancy and remains smoldering until youth or adult life, when the body becomes a prolonged or repeated exposure to infected adults. ### FOR BREAKFAST.

Cocoa—Cocoa is best in the cocoa water, sugar and pinch of salt are boiled together for five minutes. The strength of cocoa depends upon the amount of sugar used. Two teaspoons of cocoa, sugar to taste, and a third cup of water, the balance hot milk, makes the average cup of cocoa, but where cocoa is used daily, it is best and most economical to make the cocoa-syrup.

Bray Gums—One egg, one cup white flour, two cups bran, one cup sour milk, one teaspoon salt and one teaspoon sugar are combined in a mixing bowl. Beat egg very light in mixing bowl, add bran to flour, then mix all together. Beat well and drop mixture in gem pans. Bake in very hot oven.

Baked Apples and Honey—Apples, honey, butterine, cinnamon, cupful of water. Remove the cores from apples and place in a baking pan. Put into each apple a bacon, honey and a sprig of butterine, with a slight sprinkling of cinnamon; pour a cupful of water in the pan and bake until tender.

Breakfast Novelty—Left-over cold meat, salt and pepper, left-over gravy, left-over rice, milk, eggs.

Grind cold meat, season well and wet with gravy or little milk. Put this into each apple a bacon, honey and a sprig of butterine, with a slight sprinkling of cinnamon; pour a cupful of water in the pan and bake until tender.

Flat Irons and Saucepans Replace Pups of Actresses

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

London. (By Mail)—Flat irons and saucepans are replacing the Pekingese pup and lunch basket of the touring actress now-a-days.

The actress has been brought about by the scarcity of coal and gas in provincial towns and by excessive charges for laundry work. Actresses have to warm their food over the gas jet after a night performance and during the day use the saucepan to heat water for washing clothes. Then the flat irons are brought into use.

Korean Students Refuse to Sing Japanese Anthem

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Tokio. (By Mail)—Korean students from Seoul say they will not sing the Japanese anthem at the primary commercial school in that city have refused to join in the singing of the Japanese national anthem. The faculty of the school had instructed the students to practice singing the anthem in preparation for the observance of the anniversary of the birthday of the emperor.

RAT DAMAGE INCREASES

London.—The annual damage to food caused by the ever-increasing army of rats now amounts to $250,000,000 as against $15,000,000 six years ago. The board of agriculture says the cost of repairing damage done by rats is increasing proportionately.

Peach Fritters—Place in a mixing bowl one egg, one-half cup of milk, twelve tablespoons of flour, one tablespoon of sugar, two tablespoons of shortening, one teaspoon of baking powder and one teaspoon of vanilla.

Beat to a smooth batter and cut canned peaches in half or quarter and then dip in a batter. Fry golden brown and serve with vanilla sauce. Steamed dried peaches may be used in place of the canned fruit if desired.

Pie—To one pint bread sponge add one-half cup sugar, one egg, one-quarter cup butter. Mix together, let rise after mixing, roll out, rise again and bake.

CHAPTER XI.

The Story of Elsie Clark. The next two hours dragged dreadfully slow, in spite of my presence that my thoughts were continuous.

A cautious whisper, sounding almost at my very ear, caused me to start; we quickly started at the unexpected sound. I could perceive nothing, although I instantly felt convinced that whispering voice had issued from between the narrow slats defending the small stateroom window. No one was in sight along the deck, and the I was was wading through deep in my hand.

"Who was it that spoke?" I ventured, the words barely audible. "Ah did—the prisoner in the state-room. Have both those men gone?"

"Yes; I am here alone. You are a woman?" You are not her?" Beaucaire?

"No. I am not her; but Ah know what Rose Beaucaire is."

"You know? Tell me first who you are."

"Elsie Clark. Ah am a mulatto, a free negro. Ah bin 'elpin' Massa Shunk, an' cookin' fer him. Yet know what it was what happened down there?"

"I know part of it, at least—that Shunk had been killed. I was at Shunk's cabin and found the bodies. Tell me exactly what occurred there."

"What's your name?" "Steven Knox; I am a soldier. Reno must have told you about me."

"No, sah; she never done tol' me nuthin'. Ah didn't much morn' see her enyhow, fur as that goes."

"Not see her? Then she is not confined there with you?"

"Wiv me? Dur ain't nobody confined wiv me. Ah just ain't set eyes on nobody since Ah done got on board, 'cept de cook. Ah reckon dem white men aim fer ter tote me souf; an' sell me as a slave; dat's why Ah's locked up yere din' way. But Ah sure does know what dat's yet Reno Beaucaire wus."

"Wiv me?"

"Wah sah, it was 'bout like dis: Long 'bout three o'clock in de mornin' ol' Bill Sikes cum up frum de lower plat, a drivin' his kivered wagon, an' made Massa Shunk git up out en' bed fer git. Ah reckon dem team o' bosses. Den day done routed me up ter tell 'em I was sum grub."

"Sikes who was Sikes?"

"He lives down by de lower pike, sah; he's an abolitionist, sah."

"Oh, I see; he and Shunk worked together. He helped with the runaway slaves."

"Yes, sah. Ah's bin called up that way afore. So Ah just then went over work cooking, and my soon slay out of ev'rythin' a strangelin' in ter de cabin for ter eat. Dat was four ov' em, sah," her voice a husky whisper. "Bill Sikes, totin' gun in his han', a free nigger what day ended Pete, an' two winnins. De biggins was a quadroon, man, but dat forty years of, an' de odder she was, man, which wuz a gal; an' dat wuz nuthin' de nigger 'bout her eyes—dem wuz sure black 'nough."

"You learned what they were?"

"Course Ah did. Sikes he 'splained all' bout 'em fer me. Ah was an' Ah heard what he said. Ah was a white man. We all ov' us helpin' fer ter put 'em in de wagon, hid under a lot o' truck, an' den Sikes he done drove 'em out thro' de bluffs. Ah done walked wif de gal, an' she tol' mor' 'bout herself, an' what she cum' from; and dat was her name, sah."

"Ere Beaucaire; de quadroon woman she wus her mother."

I could scarcely voice my surprise, the quick throbbing of my heart threatening to choke me.

"She claimed that name? She actually told you she was Rose Beaucaire?"

"I do not know," I confessed. "Perhaps I shall understand better, if you go on. What happened after they left?"

"Why, we just went back ter bed, an' long 'bout daylight, I reckon, when we were ashore off a steamboat, an' done broke inter de house. We never done heerd 'em till day we knocked me down, an' den Ah saw Massa Shunk kill one, afore day got him. Ah don't know jist what did him. Ah's free nigger, too. D'you know he run away? Dur's a felon on 'em, you know what killed Massa Shunk; an' he's de same one what made me cum' long wif him. A smooth-faced man, sorter tall like, all dressed up, an' who never talks much."

"Kirby—Joe Kirby, a river gambler. Dat's de name—Kirby, Wah! he's de one what was lookin' fer dis year, too. He's a white man, sah, nor white man, sah."

"Kirby? Dur ain't nobody confined wiv you? We just ain't set eyes on nobody since Ah done got on board, 'cept de cook. Ah reckon dem white men aim fer ter tote me souf; an' sell me as a slave; dat's why Ah's locked up yere din' way. But Ah sure does know what dat's yet Beaucaire wus."

The records also show that Mattie Schmid and her husband, now serving sentence in San Quentin penitentiary in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, were intimates of Emma Goldman; that in her writings in "Free Society" she eulogized Gaetano Bresci, who assassinated the King of Italy, and in the same paper she urged to justify the act of Czolgosz.

Her activities in obstructing the war draft in New York and in trying to block the effective administration of the draft were also recorded.

SHAW ON AUTOGRAPH
London, Eng.—Should one collect autographs? Mr. Bernard Shaw evidently thinks not. A young New Zealander wrote to him the other day, asking him to be good enough to supply his autograph to add to his collection. Mr. Shaw's reply was characteristic. He advised the New Zealander to set fire to his collection and to sit on the top. The late W. S. Gilbert adopted a similar attitude towards autograph collectors, but it was a more pleasant playwright who answered an applicant in this wise:

"Dear Sir.—Autograph collectors are a nuisance, but I suppose as long as we supply autographs the demand will continue. It is our fault as much as yours.—Yours faithfully.—And the signature followed.

EMMA GOLDMAN, the Russian anarchist whose deportation has been ordered by the U. S. government, has been a thorn in the flesh of federal officials for years.

The investigation of her record by the department of justice at Washington showed that she was born in Russia in 1870, and that her father, also born in Russia, died at Rochester in 1905.

In December, 1885, Emma and her half-sister, Helene Zedeloff, came to the United States, and went to Rochester, where in 1886 her parents joined them.

She was married to Jacob Kersner in 1887 at Rochester by Kulmon Erdin, but there is no record of the marriage in Monroe County, nor of Erdin having been licensed, and the records of the department of justice indicate that Erdin had no right to perform the ceremony under the laws of New York. After a divorce and re-marriage, the woman became the companion of Alexander Berkman, another notorious Russian anarchist, whose deportation has been ordered by the government.

The investigation made by the department of justice revealed her activities as a radical and anarchist, her advocacy of violence, her connection with the publication of "The Earth," and the fact that Leon Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, frequented a club in Cleveland where he had heard her preach anarchist doctrines.

The records also show that Mattie Schmid and her husband, now serving sentence in San Quentin

PERSONETTE

RICHARD,

Personal messenger to the secretaries of the treasury since 1871, is one of the best known departmental characters in Washington. It is said that Richard is always closer to the secretaries than anyone else, and many are the personal things he might tell about them if he would. But Richard is discreet, and the world will never know the half he knows. Perhaps this is just as well for the peace of mind and dignity of long line of cabinet officers.

Richard was born of slave parents in 1853, belonging to a family of the name of Wilkins of Virginia. When a youth he was the slave of Alexander Secretary Boutwell, during President Grant's administration. Since that time, as he himself puts it, "I have just been handed down from secretary to secretary. The way I have managed to remain here so long is that I always try to be polite and considerate to everyone I come in contact with."

Richard is a tall, distinguished-looking darby with hair that is now almost white. He has courtly manners and whenever requested to do a favor says "Yes Sir," with a profound and stately bow. All who know him declare that he is a thorough gentleman.

While Richard may not have much "book learning" he has education of the most practical sort, acquired from association with highly cultured people and from extensive travel. He went abroad with Secretary Boutwell during the Hayes administration, and again with the son of Secretary Carlile, who served under President Cleveland. He also went to South America with Secretary McAdoo and has made numerous trips to the Pacific, always as a member of a cabinet party.

Richard's range of acquaintances is amazing. He is known from the president of the United States down to the humblest of newspaper reporters. He is the friend of many of the nation's "100."

Only the other day Mrs. McAdoo

HAGER LEADS H. S. IN OPENING GAME AS YEAR'S CAPTAIN

Ted Hager, popular athlete among the undergraduate body, will captain the Janesville basketball team through its season of 1919-20. His first tryout for the championship will come tonight when the high school will meet Brothhead in the high school gymnasium here.

Hager has played a consistent game of basketball and shown up in wonderful form as a forward and accurate forward. His ability as a leader has been well demonstrated in other lines of sports, especially in football, during emergencies.

The game tonight promises a good start for the local high school's season. Not much is known of his ability as a team player, but individuals there is plenty of material to make a good and winning season. The line-up of the game will not be decided until just before the time is called. However, it will include Hager, Barringer or Tunstead at forward; Rausbacher and Blackwell probably; the guards, Smith or McLaurin, will step in at center. Powers' shoulders still in bad condition and very likely will keep him out of the contest.

Enthusiasm among the students is at high pitch. They have much confidence in their team and expect that it will have a good chance of winning. News items were issued to the team last night.

RAILS AND SIEGLES WIN AT ARCADE

The Rails won three straight from The Siegels last night in the City league tournament at the Arcade alleys, making a score of 918 for one of them. This is one of the best totals for a single game in the league. In the other contest of the night, the Siegels won two from the News.

Kressin of the Siegels won high man for the night with 218, followed by Ryan of the Rails with 206.

Score:

TO STOP CHURCH THEFTS.
London, Eng.—Thieves from church offertory boxes have been so numerous in Hertfordshire, the chief constable has advised the placing of the boxes beneath the floor with a connecting pipe running from the wall.

Pleasant Fields Of Holy Writ

Fourth Quarter: Lesson XI. John
XVIII 15-27. XIX 25-27. December 14, 1919.

Golden Text: God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth on him should not perish but have life everlasting. John III 16.

AT THE TRIAL AND EXECU-TION OF JESUS

Even to those who believe only in the "manliness" of Jesus, his base betrayal, his ignoble desertion, his kiss, his cowardly deserting from
the court to court, false accusations,

blow on the mouth, mocking, the cry
"Crucify!" scourgings, and the Via Dolorosa with a cross for period,

the superlatively shameful and cruel
death—it is all enough to touch

every heart to pity.

It is past sufficient, but the devotees of the imperious ecclesiasticism are afraid.

They anticipate that the condemned

will be put out of the way or the forfeit.

Annas glorts over seeing the iconoclastic Galilean who two days cleansed the temple of the temple, whom he had unlawfully licensed to trade there.

He will now see those hands tied with cords instead of plating cords to divide the marketeers out.

Caiphas, the acting high priest, is equally aghast.

His father-in-law, Caiaphas, and scribes expect grim retaliation on one who has denounced them unspaningly as serpents and vipers.

The examination of Jesus

before Annas was informal, a courtesy extended by Caiphas.

And by this device the trial was on the court. Rome recognized, and to pay for a price to this day in many oriental courts.

The Sanhedrin sits

in semi-circle, scribes at either end, high priest in the center, and the accused directly before him.

Not how to deliver a convict, but how to convict, to the problem of a verdict that will not too palpably outrage

the form of law and c. o. that the Roman governor will ratify, that is the thing desired.

Under such conditions silence is Jesus' best defense.

By the validity of the process and jurisdiction of the court, both are delin-ctible, and the problem is demolished

each other's fabric of lies.

The court is at its wits' end when Caiphas rushes upon Jesus and bids him answer the witnesses.

He puts him in the dilemma of denying his messiahship or affirming it.

The Master does not hesitate.

The court, him having spoken down, he himself, pronounces the grounds of condemnation which they had failed to find. With dramatic effect, Caiphas tears his robe to shreds and precipi-tately finds a verdict, polling the youngest members to vote.

The young ones say that they might not be indulged by the voice of the elders:

condemnation could only occur the day after the trial had concluded; a capital trial could not begin the day before a Sabbath or a feast; no criminal trial could begin or be continued at night; no one could be executed on the same day on which sentence was pronounced. Every rule was flagrantly broken in the trial of the odious of the legal murder of Jesus an ex post facto law is said to have been incorporated in the canons, to wit, that in case of a false messiah the ruler of the court might be set aside. There is also a saying that for the party of Jesus, condemned men would be sent out summoning witnesses in his favor, but that none appeared.

The silent dignity of Jesus in the most trying circumstances in the blazing light of the courtroom, his foremost disciple was demeaning himself most unworthily in the dim light of the court-yard. Peter's lips came up in the trial of Jesus, his base

betrayal, his ignoble desertion, his

kiss, his cowardly deserting from

the court to court, false accusations,

blow on the mouth, mocking, the cry

"Crucify!" scourgings, and the Via

Dolorosa with a cross for period,

the superlatively shameful and cruel

death—it is all enough to touch

every heart to pity.

It is past sufficient, but the devotees of

the imperious ecclesiasticism are afraid.

They anticipate that the condemned

will be put out of the way or

the forfeit.

Ready Now! The Pasteurized Margarine

Clip The Coupon: It's Good For 10c

DIXIE is the new margarine with the full butter taste and flavor. Shut your eyes, try a taste of the butter you are now using; then try Dixie and see honestly, if you can tell them apart.

DIXIE is the pasteurized* margarine. Absolutely pure. Every gallon of milk and cream that goes into Dixie is doubly pasteurized—*once at the milk stations in the country and again by us when it reaches our Plant.

* Ask your family physician how vital pasteurization is. In later ads we also shall tell you how much it means to you.

Dixie is the new margarine with even a higher food value than butter itself. The great food experts have testified to this as you will see later.

And finally, DIXIE will save you almost a half on your butter bills.

DIXIE is the greatest creation of Wm. J. Moxley, founder of the Margarine Industry in America.

We want everybody to try it partly at our expense and see for yourselves what a wonderful spread for bread science has at last produced.

Here is the Coupon-Clip it Now!

Coupon Also Good for Moxley's Famous
ALCO Nut Butter

This famous Nut Butter, made of the food ingredients of the cocoanut and the peanut churned with milk and cream is also a completely pasteurized product.
